

Wayne State Survey 2016-2017

Special Education is intended to help families of students with disabilities. The Michigan Department of Education has partnered with Wayne State University to learn how families feel about their involvement in the special education process. Residents of South Lyon Community Schools will have an opportunity to share their experiences through a quick survey. The survey is being sent to random parents of students who receive special education services in the 2016-2017 school year. The information will be summarized in a final survey report. The survey is voluntary and confidential. If you would like to learn more about the survey, please contact Sue Toth, Director of Special Education for South Lyon Community Schools, 248-573-8220.
