The following letter was received and placed on file:

Based on comments at last week’s finance committee meeting, I was taken aback by the change of minds concerning the renewal of our external auditing contract. I am just as cost conscious as the next county board member, but to me it is worth paying an additional 1.5% on a $500K contract in order to get a new team reviewing our financial records. 17 years is too long for any one auditing agency to be expected to review the same books and be expected to look at our financial process with the same vigor and curiosity as their first year on the job. Having good working relationships between the customer and the auditor are important, but there are diminishing returns starting as early as second year of the contract, and at some point it is only human nature to develop personal relationships and for judgement to become clouded. I also believe it is our obligation to the people we represent to create a new Madison County resolution making it our policy to rotate auditors at an agreed upon time period. Let’s remember that we have a new chairman that was voted into office to take the reins of the county and it is also his belief that the time has come to recognize the hard work of our auditor over the past 17 years, but it is also time to bring in a new team. I simply asked myself if I were CEO of my company, what would be best for the shareholders.

Respectfully,

s/ Don Moore
County Board Member District 2

The following letter was received and placed on file:

Mr. Chairman and fellow Board Members:

Let me first start out by saying that I have no horse in this race except that the specific contract we are awarding relates to work within in my profession. As a CPA and someone who has actually worked as an external auditor, I guess what I am wondering is where is the clear-cut evidence that supports Mandatory Auditor Rotation (MAR)? The answer is, it doesn’t exist. There are some studies that show potential and hypothetical benefits to MAR, but at best, the evidence is dicey and at worst, the conclusions support long-term auditor-client relationships.

One of my favorite studies sites the administration’s top concerns - Independence and Professional Skepticism. This study, which was published in the highly distinguished peer reviewed journal “The Accounting Review,” was conducted by three professors from three different universities, one being the University of Illinois, my alma mater. The study states:

“In a long-term relationship, auditors gain confidence in assessing the truth or falsity of their clients’ claims. So when auditors are assessing the likelihood that their clients’ claims are true, they are able to find plenty of psychological support for that possibility. On the other hand, when they are assessing the risk that those claims are false, they are also able to find more psychological support for that possibility. Rotation undermines this confidence. Rotating auditors are at a disadvantage in finding psychological support for either the possible truth or falsity of their clients’ claims. As a result, this study suggests that the basic assumption underlying this debate—that rotation would improve auditor efforts to be skeptical—is not valid. Skepticism appears to benefit from a long term auditor-client relationship.”

Dozens of other studies completed by universities and accounting organizations have proven the same outcome. Below are excerpts from two reports completed by a couple of the most reputable accounting organization in the United States of America.
• Center for Audit Quality – Letter to the PCAOB – December 14th, 2011
  o “The CAQ is not aware of any evidence that MFR (Mandatory Firm Rotation) improves audit quality or otherwise benefits investors. In fact, some studies show that MFR could have unintended consequences that ultimately reduce audit quality and increase costs for public companies (page 9).”

• American Institute of CPAs – Letter to the PCAOB - December 14th, 2011
  o “Research indicates that mandatory firm rotation may have an adverse impact on audit quality; however, we are not aware of any such credible research that exists demonstrating that firm rotation would significantly improve audit quality (page

Finally, let’s look at the private sector for best practices and benchmarking, which is a practice I believe is lacking in government. Proctor and Gamble has used Deloitte and Touche for 126 years as its external auditor. Goodyear Tire has been with PWC for 118 years. BP, 107 years with Ernst and Young. General Elective – KPMG – 107 years. Dow Chemical – Deloitte – 106 years. J.C. penny – KPMG – 100 years (all statistics as of 2015). These are fortune 1000, 500, and 100 companies. Why do they keep the same auditor? Because they know the stats. They know the evidence. The results are clear. When you switch auditors, risk of misstatement increases, risk of restatement increases, and the risk of fraud increases.

To conclude, in my professional opinion, I strongly advocate against Mandatory Auditor Rotation, and thereby believe the contract should be awarded to the lowest bidder and reputable local firm, Schefflel Boyle.

Sincerely with respect,

s/ David W. Michael

The following letter was received and placed on file:

I wish to make a statement regarding the outside audit function. Madison County has used the same outside auditor for 17 years. Before I continue, I want to make it perfectly clear that my comments below have nothing to do with the Scheffel CPA firm. My comments would be the same regardless of the CPA firm. In my opinion, 17 years is already too long and to extend this relationship another 4 to 5 years is unwise. Why do I say this? Because a CPA firm must be “independent” of the client. Is it theoretically possible for a CPA to remain “independent” over a 20 year period? Yes, but everyone knows that it is human nature when people work together over time they can become “chummy” and “independence” is lost. This concept is well known in the auditing industry and that is why the Illinois Auditor General and some Illinois counties have policies that require “mandatory auditor rotation” usually every 6 years. One wise rule is obey the law and benchmark with other counties. Today I called the Illinois Auditor General’s office and other counties. What I found is that the concept of “mandatory auditor rotation” is the “best practice.” The Champaign County Treasurer said, “We just switched to Baker Tilly. We don’t have a policy that mandates a change every six years, but I will tell you that by far the overriding factor in the county board’s decision to switch was to gain a new perspective.” The Peoria County Treasurer said “It is our policy now to change auditors at least every five years. We just completed five years with Baker Tilly and now we are going with Sikich.” The McLean County Treasurer said, “We are like Champaign County. We don’t have a policy in black and white, but we are 100% committed to rotation. We went from Clifton Gunderson to McGladrey and now we are going with Baker Tilly. It is a pain to educate the incoming auditors but it keeps things open and accountable.” Rotation is so important. Bad stuff has happened with governmental units when this is not done. The Sangamon County Chief Deputy Treasurer said “We re bid every five years. We don’t require that it change, but our normal arrangement is three years, with a two year extension. We had McGladrey for three years. They changed their name to RSM US and we continued another two years with them. We chose Clifton Gunderson for the next year. It’s always good to have a different set of eyes. People become complacent after 3-4 years of doing the same thing.” The Will County Chief Deputy Treasurer said “We had Baker Tilly for four years, then we renewed with them for four years. We required that the team rotated, so we have fresh eyes. That was required.” The county chairman of a county larger than Madison County, who has wished to remain anonymous, said “Your county board should remember that the low bid is not the only consideration. They have a fiduciary duty to the taxpayers. All you need to say is Dixon, Illinois.” An official with the Illinois Auditor General said “We contract out 75% of our audit work. Our policy in practice is that we have a 6 year mandatory auditor change. We consider that good practice. In a rare circumstance we might make an exception to this rule.

1. United States General Accounting Office Mandatory Audit Firm Rotation (MFR) Study
   Report to the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs and the House Committee on Financial Services
   February 2004

Under MFR, 89 percent of Fortune 1000 public company audit committee chairs stated that costs are likely to exceed benefits. When polling Fortune 1000 Public Company Audit Committee Chairs –

"Knowledge of business and familiarity with employees (strength/weaknesses) are important components of audit quality. Rotation implies less in-depth business knowledge and superficial relationships that could, in fact, reduce audit quality and increase the risk of overlooking an issue or being ‘manipulated’ by management.” (Page 17 & 18)

When polling Fortune 1000 Public Company Chief Financial Officers –

"Most (88 percent) respondents said their overall current view was that they do not support requiring mandatory rotation of public accounting firms because of higher costs, risk of audit failure, and audit inefficiencies associated with rotating the auditor of record, among other issues.” (Page 12)

2. Center for Audit Quality
   Serving Investors, Public Company Auditors & the Markets
   December 14, 2011

"...Mandatory firm rotation (MFR) is not a concept that will work to improve audit quality, and is in fact fraught with significant risks and unintended consequences..." (Page 26)

MFR could reduce audit quality through hinderance of accumulation of experience (Page 34). GAO estimated that selection and support costs could increase by 17 percent for public companies. (Page 37)

3. Illinois CPA Society

"...We believe the mandates of SB 2270 of competitively bid auditor selection and mandatory rotation will diminish audit quality and do not serve the public interest.” (Page 40)

"Government units are often decentralized departments that have their own policies....Rotation will make it harder for auditors to learn the government entities business practices, procedures and operations.” (Page 41)

4. AICPA
   March 4, 2016

"Mandatory audit firm rotation was specifically rejected by the U.S. Congress when it passed the Sarbanes-Oxley Act in 2002. Subsequent studies by the GAO have supported Congress’ original decision not to legislate audit firm rotation.” (Page 43)
5. AICPA
   December 14, 2011

"...it appears that the Board’s rationale for pursuing mandatory firm rotation is based on an unsubstantiated presumption that its inspection findings are the result of a lack of auditor objectivity and professional skepticism and that this could be improved through mandatory firm rotation." (Page 45)

Experience and knowledge of operations and client industry enhance audit quality. Academic research shows that audit quality tends to improve with tenure. (Page 46)

6. Illinois CPA Society
   December 13, 2011

"Audit firms already expend disproportionate effort and costs in completing a first, and even second, time audits to counter the possible adverse impacts on audit quality caused by a transition and the resulting learning curve." (Page 51)

Audit quality could be harmed from MFR if audit firms are less willing or able to expend incremental time and effort to complete a first or second year audit due to the increase of volume of first and second year audits that would result from MFR. (Page 53)

7. International Federation of Accountants
   December 15, 2015

"In a long-term relationship, auditors gain confidence in assessing the truth or falsity of their clients’ claims." (Page 65)

"Skepticism appears to benefit a long-term auditor-client relationship" (Page 65)

Ms. Ciampoli moved, seconded by Mr. Michael, to adopt the five (5) foregoing resolutions.

On the question:

Mr. Michael: I have a formal written statement that I would like to include as well into the record, regarding the engagement of the CPA’s. I am not going to read it because it looks like there is no pushback on it. I sited 4 different peer review journals that come from the American Institute of CPA’S, Center for Audit Quality and the accountancy review, that site strong consensus for longevity and audit client relationships.

Mr. Parkinson: I would like to hear from Mr. Faccin on this issue.

Mr. Prenzler: Should we go ahead and separate number 4?

Mr. Parkinson: No.

Mr. Faccin: Chairman, I would also like to enter something for the record and commend our committee, Ms. Ciampoli and Mr. Michael with 2 members from my staff, they did a great job with this process.

Ms. Ciampoli: Being part of that committee, we went ahead and continued with Scheffel and Company, they were the lowest bid. They are going to change their staff for the next 4 years and everyone in the committee agreed they were doing a fine job and we will continue with their contract.

The ayes and nays being called on the motion to adopt resulted in a vote as follows:

Mr. Prenzler:  Is there any new business this evening?

Mr. McRae:  On the agenda tonight, there was an appointment for the sewer district and one of the things that has come to my attention and my understanding is they get paid like a county board member, roughly $15,000.00, they receive health insurance for the members of the board and their family members.  I think this is an over the top benefit.  I talked to the previously appointed people and all of them said they would move to remove that as a benefit, which I think is the proper thing.  I just want to make sure that is something I would like to make the board aware of and I think that is something we should consider as these folks come forward, not only with this board but with other ones as well.  I think that is an incredibly generous benefit for a part time job and I think it should be ended.

Mr. Prenzler:  That is a question for the Metro East Sanitary District Board.

Mr. McRae:  But we are in charge of appointing those people.  The other people we had appointed this year said they would move to end that.  I don’t have time to monitor every board we appoint to but I would hope someone in this body would do so.  Do you have any knowledge of that?

Mr. Asadorian:  I know the state says they cannot provide benefits for part time employees.  Is that correct Mr. Gibbons?

Mr. Gibbons:  I am not aware of anything.

Mr. Asadorian:  Also there are other jurisdictions involved in this as well.

Mr. Prenzler:  Yes, it is another jurisdiction.

Mr. McRae:  We have 2000 Granite City steelworkers who are laid off and probably struggling to provide health insurance for their families and they are paying the bills.  I just feel we need to put a stop to it and we have the power to do it when the people are appointed to these boards that vote for those benefits, they say they are no longer going to participate that is within their power to do so.  I would like for you when you are talking with these people to make sure they are in agreement with that.  I am going to ask them that.  I think this is something we need to keep track with all the boards because that is how this whole thing gets so out of control at times.
Mr. Asadorian: We would have to work that out with St. Clair County because it would not be any good to have 3 members not receiving that benefit and the other 2 receiving it. It would have to be a cooperative effort with St. Clair County because there are both representatives on both sides.

Mr. Prenzler: Yes, that is correct. 2 of the board members are appointed by St. Clair County.

Mr. McRae: But Madison County has 3 board members, so the majority come from Madison County. And just as we voted ourselves out of IMRF, which I think was the right thing to do and Art you are right, some of those do have 600 to 1000 hours to participate in IMRF, it would be likely they would have no such requirement for health insurance, it is just an over the top benefit.

Mr. Madison: I would like for it to be known that I support Mr. McRae’s position completely. I agree that every board similar to that should be held to that standard.

Mr. Parkinson: I concur with them.

Ms. Hawkins: When I was appointed to the Metro East Sanitary District, I had health insurance so I did not come under that. As far as the pension, I did not come under the county nor the levee district or the township. If you have health insurance someplace else you certainly would not take it from MESD or you shouldn’t. I think most of them there, the new appointed people are not covered under health insurance.

Ms. Kuhn: I agree with Tom also. Would it be possible to have a resolution go to the government relations committee?

Mr. Prenzler: Yes, that can be discussed in that committee. Anything else? Mr. Parkinson you already spoke on this issue.

Mr. Parkinson: Everyone else has spoken. I have the right to speak again.

Mr. Prenzler: We do want to be careful, we are trying to be efficient.

Mr. Parkinson: Would you support a resolution for that?

Mr. Prenzler: I think Ms. Kuhn’s suggestion would be excellent for that to go to government relations committee.

Mr. Walters moved, seconded by Mr. Holliday, to move into executive session to discuss actions on specific personnel in accordance with 5ILCS 120/2(c) (1), (11) and (12).

The ayes and nays being called on the motion resulted in a vote as follows:

NAYS: None.

AYES: 27. NAYS: 0. Whereupon the Chairman declared the motion adopted.
